

Figure 1.1-1. Image showing contours of sea surface height with examples of the types and scales of eddy-like features that can occur in the eastern and northeastern Gulf of Mexico.